

This is for everyone who has a desktop. Once or twice a month visits depending on the criticality of the systems to do a basic health check on patching, virus, spy-ware, and performance. This support can be combined with onsite under a regular contract, but it is important to set aside the time to do this completely on a regular basis.